JNA consists of IT consultants that have a proven track record of excellence in various industries which include:

- Consumer Industrial Products
- Energy
- Manufacturing
- Oil and Gas
- Utilities

VISION

JNA’s vision is to bring new meaning to the concept of staffing and to be a solutions provider that clearly stands out from the competition. We believe that our multiple levels of experience in different industries allow us to better understand the dynamics associated with forming successful business partnerships. This experience gives us a competitive advantage because we not only look to meet our customers’ staffing and resource needs, but we understand the key role that it plays in the overall development, maintenance and growth of their business. The business model that we have allows us to be flexible in today’s rapidly changing environment. Our full-service approach, extensive knowledge of the technology marketplace, and experienced staff allow us to promptly respond to our clients’ special needs and requirements. The technology professionals we deploy, on either a contract, contract-to-hire or full-time basis, cover a broad range of IT related responsibilities.

CORE COMPETENCIES

Staff Augmentation – Our staff augmentation methodology allows you to retain and add resources on an as needed basis. Our objective is to cover your specific needs, both cost effectively and efficiently. We realize how quickly market conditions change and we are prepared to rapidly respond to our clients' demands. JNA offers a full range of outsource services, with IT knowledge and expertise in numerous areas. We can help minimize your IT staff payroll costs with our IT professionals working closely with your employees to ensure your IT needs are met.

Resource Management - Identifying and managing a high-quality supplemental workforce has become an increasingly essential and complex task. For those customers who require a managed solution for their IT contract employees, JNA Resource Management delivers a customized and comprehensive program that meets your unique business requirements. In a Resource Management relationship, JNA assumes responsibility for the overall performance and retention of each candidate. You work directly with a Resource Management team dedicated to your company which guarantees you qualified candidates. With a major focus on Enterprise Resource Planning, Customer Relationship Management, and Human Capital Management resource solutions, JNA takes a collaborative approach that ensures each customer receives the right solution for their staffing needs.

Mission - Our mission is to consistently offer our customers the best possible solutions to their constantly evolving business needs. We strive to understand the challenges our clients and candidates face and work diligently to partner relationships that will be beneficial for both. We pride ourselves on being honest and trustworthy in all aspects of our services and make every effort to protect the integrity and quality of our customers' business. Our aspiration is that whenever a need arises, Johnson Network Associates will be there to serve as your IT RESOURCE SOLUTIONS PROVIDER.
